Internet Safety

It has come to our attention that some children have been on a live chat social network site called House Party and some unkind comments have been made to our pupils by High school children.
This app has an age rating of 12+ so our children should not really have access to this site. We are concerned that pupils have access to social networking sites for which they are not old enough for. I have no control on what you allow your children to access but just ask you to be vigilant to what they are viewing, the age ratings for these apps and that you supervise the access for their safety.

Boo

Before the holidays the pupils found a kitten abandoned on the school playground. We took it to the vets and searched for the owner, who we discovered was local to the school. The kitten has now been adopted by Mr & Mrs Clarke and has joined their family of pets. She is doing very well and is called Boo
